Privacy Notice

Personal information that the Great Barrier Reef Marine Park Authority (GBRMPA) collects from you in regard to the Environmental Management Charge (EMC) is protected by the Privacy Act 1988 (the Privacy Act). The Great Barrier Reef Marine Park Act 1975 requires the GBRMPA to assess and collect charges imposed by the Great Barrier Reef Marine Park (Environmental Management Charge - General) Act 1993 and the Great Barrier Reef Marine Park (Environmental Management Charge - Excise) Act 1993. The information provided by you will be used to assess your liability to pay an EMC. For this reason, it is a requirement under the Great Barrier Reef Marine Park Regulations 1983 (Regulations) for holders of chargeable permissions to give to the GBRMPA copies of EMC logbook entries and Charging Return forms at quarterly intervals. If you make an application to the GBRMPA for a permission, the information you provide may also be used to assist the GBRMPA to assess your application, by enabling it to determine if you have any outstanding EMC liability. The authority to consider this information is in the Regulations. Further, in assessing your application for a permission, the information you provide may be used to assess whether you have made reasonable use of any permission previously granted to you.

The GBRMPA will not disclose personal information you provide on these forms to any third party without your consent, unless otherwise authorised by law. However, the GBRMPA may use some of the information you provide to create aggregated statistical data, which it may pass on to other departments and organisations, such as the Queensland Department of Environment and Resource Management (DERM), the Association of Marine Park Tourism Operators (AMPTO), Port Authorities and the Tourism and Recreation Reef Advisory Committee (TRRAC) and make available in publications and its website.
